EXPERTISE IN HIGHER EDUCATION

Various training courses at the Universities of Basel and Bern, for instance on research-based learning or education for sustainability

DOCTORAL STUDENTS

Second supervisor for three dissertations (ongoing)

DOCTORAL PROGRAMME

As a member of the steering committee, I co-conceptualised, together with Damir Skenderovic and Christina Späti, a doctoral programme on the topic of migration and post-colonialism at the University of Fribourg. This programme enhanced transdisciplinary work (history, sociology, political science, religious studies, social anthropology, gender and cultural studies, as well as other disciplines) at the postgraduate level. In addressing important challenges to society and politics, it gave PhD students the opportunity to bridge different knowledge cultures, enhance intellectual exchanges, and discuss current methodological and theoretical debates. From 2013 to 2019, about 50 PhD students have taken part in this programme. Due to my transfer to the University of Bern, I have not been on the steering committee since 2020. The programme ended in 2021.

LANGUAGES

German (first language), Italian (first language), French (Alliance française: Diplôme de Hautes Etudes Françaises), English (University of Cambridge: Certificate of Proficiency), Spanish (optional subject High School), Latin (Major High School/maturity type B)
